

Wupperthal Organic Farmers

IWRM Objectives – Water for emerging farmers, empowerment & capacity building

The mission village of Wupperthal is located along the Tra-Tra River in the Cederberg mountains. The subsistence farmers are well known for their fresh vegetables which they sell throughout the region. This DWA IWRM funded project provided funding to the farmers to improve their irrigation systems, purchase fencing materials, farming inputs and obtain organic certification.

Financial Information for Wupperthal Organic Emerging Farmers (WT21)

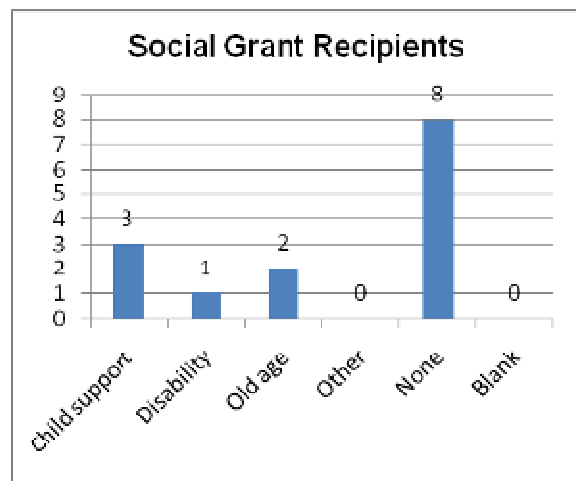

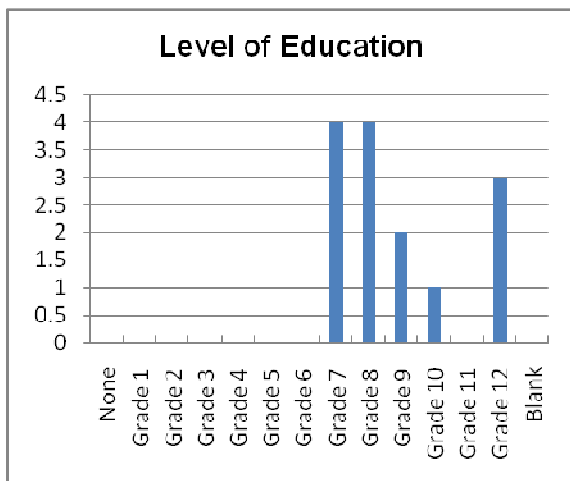

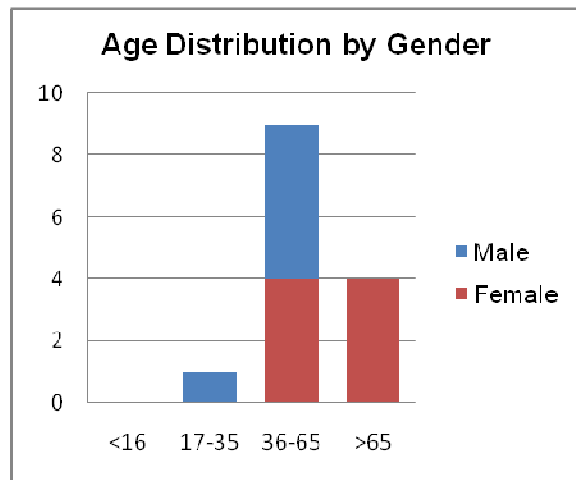

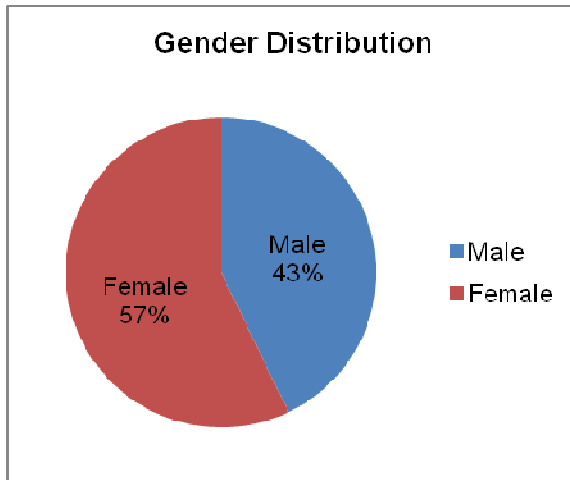

The Wupperthal Organic Emerging Farmers was awarded a contract named IWRMII-OD-WT21-006 in 2008 to the value of R148,418.00. R144,923.31 was spent in the given contract period and the project status is "Closed" at the time of this report (31 August 2009).

Of the budget allocated to this group, R96,758.63 was spent on materials and equipment to build the operations, R36,514.68 was allocated to wages and payments for work done on project tasks, and R11,650.00 was claimed to support the project management and administration tasks undertaken by the group.

During the first phase of community project funding, this project received and spent R219,518.04. The total invested in this group by IWRM is thus R364,441.35 since June 2007.

Membership Information for Wupperthal Organic Emerging Farmers (WT21)

Number of active project participants: 15 (8 female, 6 male).

Contact Dennis Bantom or Nico Hanekam on 027-492 3060 for more information.